PROTECTING TODAY'S NETWORK ENVIRONMENT IS RISKY BUSINESS!!!

Organizations and businesses like yours are dependent on technology to be successful in today's competitive marketplace. It is imperative to protect your business from such realities as credit card fraud, information theft and network outages as financially motivated cyber crime is changing the landscape. Activant's Watchdog ISS™ can help.

Let Activant Manage Internet Security for Your Entire Network Infrastructure

Maintaining an Internet connection is no longer just a convenience for you and your staff. For most businesses, the Internet has become an indispensable business channel. More and more businesses like yours depend on the Internet to attract new customers, generate sales, process orders, look up product information in electronic catalogs and locate products and services. Any disruption to your Internet connection means dollars lost—from lost sales, inefficiencies and downtime. Managing a properly secured Internet connection takes a very disciplined effort and valuable information technology (IT) resources. Critical tasks like keeping virus and spyware software up to date or reviewing intrusion reports are often overlooked when everything seems to be running smoothly.

It's Easy with Activant Watchdog ISS!

You won't need expensive IT resources or a dedicated staff member to set up and monitor Internet security. We'll help you every step of the way. To get you started, our Certified Network Security Administrators will analyze your network infrastructure, define optimal network configurations and implement necessary security measures to protect your network and your business. Once Watchdog ISS has been implemented, all security functions will be automatic—and automatically maintained by Activant. Should you experience any problems, you'll receive service from our Local Platform Specialists, who have the training and tools to get you up and running quickly and efficiently!
